CRITICIZED- AT HEARING

Washington, April 20.—George Dem-ming, of Philadelphia, counsel for the National Association of Hosiery and Underwear Manufacturers, testifying esterday and today before the Senate Judiciary Sub-Committee in charge of hearings on the dye industry, came under fire from proponents of a dye embargo when he opposed the selective embargo system.

Dr. Samuel Isermann, president o the Chemical Company of America, with plants in New York and New Jersey, demanded to know why pays the wit-

"The question is whether he is paid by the German importers, while he sup-posedly represents consumers," said Dr. Isermann.

"I can say here very emphatically that I am not," asserted Mr. Demming. "I have always seen Mr. Demming tee was anxious to get at the facts, not motives of the witnesses. Not Paid by the Association

Dr. Isermann remarked that John Nash McCallaugh, industrial manager for the association, had informed him that Mr. Demming receives no fee from the association. Later he requested the association. Later he requested Mr. Demming to place in the record of the hearing a statement showing by whom he is paid.

"I'll tell you," replied Mr. Demming, "I am not paid by the association, but by some members of the association."

"And others," suggested Dr. Iser-

"If by others you mean importers, that is absolutely not so," Mr. Demming declared.
"Well, other 'consumers'?" Dr. Isermann inquired.
"Yes," said Mr. Demming.

Mr. Demming, who expects to finish his testimony today, said all knit goods manufacturers, with the exception of underwear manufacturers, are large users of dyestuffs and require the best. The knit goods industry is not rep-resented in the Textile Alliance, he said, and estimated, as an admittedly rough guess, that it represented from 15 to 20 per cent of the textile industry of the country. The bulk of the mills in his association are small mills in small towns, he continued. His only interest in the hearing, he said, was to protest against the selective embargo

'Hasn't he been a jobber of dyes?"
inquired Dr. Isermann.

"I don't know," said the witness.

Before Harding Washington. April 20 .- President Harding has before him for consideration full information on the Porto Rico political controversy involving E. Mont Reily, Governor of the island. Governor Reily's record and the charges made against him in Porto Rico and here were given to the President yesterday by Secretary Weeks and Representative Towner, chairman of the House Committee on Insular Affairs. digested by the President. His removal then, it is said, will come only if the President is convinced he is not capable of administering Porto Rican affairs.

Indication was given yesterday that Representative Towner in his talk with the President intimated that efforts would be made in the House to impeach Mr. Reily if the Chief Executive did not remove him. It is said that members of the House Judiciary Committee favor such act because of Governor Reily's recent removal of the District Attorney in Porto Rico, when he sought to obtain the indictment of the Governor on a charge of misappropriation and mis-application of Government funds.
